Brett Maracle, Panel Manager
Robb Trend Joint Review Panel Secretariat

The draft agreement and attached terms of reference for the joint review panel on the Robb Trend Coal Mine Expansion Project are thorough and adequate in both their scope and the detailed factors to be considered. I see nothing of real interest or concern for the Association in the body of the draft agreement or in the attached Cost Sharing Provisions.

I see no specific areas of interest to the Association that were missed or need to be strengthened in the draft ToRs.

However I am pleased to see the provision on page A3 under Cumulative Effects Assessment on the pre-Coal Valley Mine case. It is very important to the members of the Robb Hamlet Preservation Association that the panel look at the cumulative impact to the environment and the community over 35 years with 3 mines working in the area.

Hopefully this will provide answers to the questions members have been asking for years, how much can our environment, rivers and streams take before they are unsuitable habitat for all.

How much is to much?
