Subject: Stop Steamrolling the 413 and Bradford Bypass

Ontario has undertaken a flawed environmental assessment of the 413 proposal. The Ford government has restarted the project that saw its original flawed environmental assessment terminated in 2015; and proposes exempting the project (and all highways less than 75 km long) from individual provincial Environmental Assessments. Together with recent rollbacks to the Endangered Species Act, Ontario is clearly not going to adequately assess the impact of these highways.

Highways make it difficult for animals to navigate, cutting them off from dens and separating them from their food sources. Connected landscapes can ensure the chances of survival for species. In the Greater Golden Horseshoe, only 3% is protected and we have the highest number of species at risk, more connectivity is needed not less.

The 413 would bisect the sensitive headwaters of four watersheds, including the Sixteen Mile Creek, the Credit River, Etobicoke Creek, and the Humber River. The Bradford Bypass would pinch off the Holland River and cross the provincially significant wetland of the Holland Marsh. This would severely impact water quality for Lake Simcoe and downstream to Georgian Bay. Over 85 stream crossings have been identified for the 413 proposal alone.

These unnecessary highways would split open significant woodlands and wetlands, open the Greenbelt to development and further restrict species movements across the Niagara Escarpment and Oak Ridges Moraine by fragmenting habitat and ecological corridors. Habitat for species at risk would be destroyed and altered. Yet, travel times would largely remain the same. For the 413, it would shave off less than a minute in travel.

Many municipalities and civil society groups have come out against these highways. I want to add my voice to the growing chorus of the concerned.

Minister, we need your leadership. Please designate these projects for a full federal Environmental Assessment.
